Bowling Champ Gave Up Baseball

When the bowling historians put their final stamp on the year 1966, it will go down as the year of Wayne

Those wishing to probe deeper will find it duly corded that the 6-foot blonde bomber from Atlanta,

Ga., first hit it big by winning the $25,000 first prize in the Firestone Tournament of Champions in April and capped the season by winning the $10,000 first prize in the Professional Bowlers Association National Championship in November. Between those two sensational conquests he lace on a pair of shoes.

Championship status came to Wayne Zahn in 1966 at the age of 25. How did he get to the top of the bowling ladder? Who helped him climb the slippery rungs?

Zahn threw his first ball at the age of 9 in his native Mil-waukee with the urging and under the watchful eye of his father, Earl Zahn. No boy 1962, Zahn came into his own ever had a better start.
